THE ONE MAN PLAN

Captain Harry Freese Has His Own Ideas

REGARDING MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

He Would Make the Mayor an Important Personage, and Would Have Him Take an Active Part in the Government of Every City—An Interesting Article.

Captain Harry Freese, the gentle man who is rapidly becoming acquainted with East Liverpool people because of his connection with the proposed railroad, has his own ideas on municipal reform, and he ventilated them in a well written article which appeared in the Pittsburg Dispatch last Sunday.

The captain believes in one head and abundant business ability. They make the foundation on which he would rear his municipal structure. Pointing to the success of the federal plan in the government of the nation and referring to its popularity when used in the management of vast business interests, he believes it well suited for a municipality where they want a clean administration. His plan is outlined in the following:

"The legislative functions are vested in an assembly, the members of which are elected by the people of the several wards or districts. This body nearly corresponds with what we now have in our city council. There must be no legislative power in the city, and the council must not perform any duties by committee or otherwise which are in any way executive or judicial. The executive functions are vested in one man, who is selected by the people at a general election. From our familiarity with the title this official would be called the mayor. At the same time the mayor is relieved from the magistrat duties now usually given to him, but being the sole executive of the office, becomes one of great importance and responsibility. The judicial functions are vested in a city court, which can have such jurisdiction in addition to that of the usual police court as the legislature sees fit to give it."

Upon the executive Captain Freese centers his argument, and in connection with this he says:

"The mayor must have such professional and technical counsel and advice as would be accorded any person or commission, public or private, entrusted with the important duties devolving on him, and it is believed he can secure the best counsel by calling his own advisers, and that he should give to them the direction of the work into their special spheres. He must necessarily divide the work into corresponding departments, and the head of each would be responsible to him, as he is responsible to the council, and to the people. These departments naturally form as of public works, law, police, fire service, accounts and disbursements, and where applicable, of corrections and charities. The council may be required to confirm the appointments of these chiefs or directors of departments if it is desired, but in the performance of their duties they must not be responsible to the council or to each other. Of course, it is designed they shall each have access to the other for counsel and advice on matters relating to their respective departments, and they will be required to give the legislative body facts and information from their respective departments, and their professional and technical advice, whenever called upon; but in all these relations the separateness of the functions of the two divisions of the government must be kept constantly in view."

Business ability in the transactions of the affairs of a municipality Captain Freese thinks a necessity. And he argues with much force that one man can be made to answer to the people better than any board ever created. In conclusion he says:

"By making the mayor solely responsible to the people, there is thus made a definite point of contact between the people and the administration, and the entire executive division, as far as its directing force is concerned, must stand or fall according as it meets with the approval of the people, which is as it should be. On the general question of the propriety of giving the mayor such unlimited power little need be said, except that power must be commensurate with purpose, and the power of an executive must be located somewhere, and it is thought better to locate it where it can be reached directly and easily when occasion requires, and where its responsibility can not be evaded. Such then are the general features of the federal plan as applied to municipal government, and there is this in its favor, after an experience of over a hundred years with such a form of government for our nation, no serious question has ever been raised as to its utility and value, and no effort has ever been made to change its general character."

ARE YOU A GOOD CITIZEN?

If So, Then You Will Do Your Duty at the Primaries.

Do your duty as a good citizen at the coming primaries. Don't dare neglect this sacred duty and afterward enter complaint that the right men were not nominated, that the scoundrels and loafers had control of the polling places and that the city is going to the demerit bow wows. Such practice has controlled in the past, as you are well aware, and the good citizens of East Liverpool are largely responsible for such a condition of affairs. In days gone by the complaint has been:

"Well, you'll not catch me at the primaries. There's always a rough gang about the polling places, and I get disgusted at the profanity, vulgarity and general cussedness prevailing. There's a rough gang always on deck, and I'm not going to mix with it."

Don't dare make such assertions respecting the coming primaries. It is your duty as a good citizen, taking pride in the city in which you dwell and where your interests are centered, to attend the primaries and place in nomination the class of men who will reflect credit upon East Liverpool, and who will eventually place the business interests of the municipality on a much better foundation than at present controls. Be up and doing. Talk to your neighbor about this matter. Urge every true and honest voter—every law-abiding citizen, to do his full duty on the premises. Go to the primaries and place good men and true in nomination.

So that the East Liverpool organization may be considered an auxiliary of the Pittsburg Free Kindergarten association. YOUR MEDAL IS READY.

Those World's Fair Honors are at Last Completed.

The treasury department at Washington has received from the manufacturers 119 cases, containing 23,750 Columbian World's exposition bronze medals which were awarded to exhibitors. So far as the department is concerned, the medals are ready for delivery. The time of the delivery now rests entirely with the World's Fair commission. It is expected that the diplomas will be completed some time next month, when the commission will be called together and arrangements for their delivery to exhibitors entitled to them. A goodly number of those medals come to this city, and their arrival has long been expected.

JUMPED OFF A TRAIN.

A Thrilling Incident at the Passenger Station.

A young lady who was a passenger on the train going east had an experience at the station yesterday afternoon. As the train was pulling out she noticed an intimate friend on the platform, and running through the car jumped off. The train had taken on considerable speed, and the lady not knowing how to alight from a moving car made an error. She jumped in the opposite direction from that which the train was going, and fell on the platform. Luckily she was not hurt, but her friends were much alarmed until they found she was safe.

THE WIRE BROKE.

An Accident Put Out the Lights Last Night.

An important wire in the light service of the city broke at a point near Ralston crossing last night, and that part of town was plunged in darkness. The break was an annoying one, but the repair crew from the station soon had it repaired, and the lights were not out long. The accident occurred in the early part of the evening, and would have been more of an annoyance were it not for the clear sky and the light from the moon.

HE WAS A STRANGER

And the Gang Proceeded to Take Him in.

EXHAUSTED AND WORN OUT

The Poor Victim of a Successful Goose-pasture Plot Reached Broadway Last Night—He Had Run Through a Mob, Who Made the Race Lively.

The most serious case of goosepasture the city has known for several years was experienced by a young man in the lower part of the city last night, and gave unbounded amusement to at least a hundred people.

The man worked at a Sixth street restaurant, and during his residence of a few weeks in the city has become intimate with a number of young men who have been promising to show him the town. The scheme was arranged with all its details, and last night being fine was selected as the time. The victim went walking up the track with a woman, and not knowing her reputation was seeing her home. Another couple accompanied them, and they chatted pleasantly until the house, a residence near the railroad, was reached. Then a man stepped out who declared himself the girl's father, and in tones of thunder denounced the young man. He would not have such a class running after his daughter, and proposed to punish him right there. A revolver at once flashed into view and the next moment the young fellow was doing what his tormentors most desired—flying down the track as fast as he could run. Of course there were several hundred men and boys concealed along the road, and they helped the victim make good time by pelting him with innumerable missiles and making his trip decidedly unpleasant. When he reached Broadway he was in a deplorable condition and almost exhausted, while the crowd crept up town laughing at the great joke. The poor victim, however, looked upon it as anything but a joke.

The victim realized today that he could make some of the crowd suffer, and remembering that he had seen a few revolvers as he fled down the track reported to the police. He had Officer Whan search one youth who was suspected of taking part in the affair, but he had no arms and was allowed to go. Others are promised a similar dose, and it is not known where the matter will end.

A WISE OPINION.

The Canton and East Liverpool Not to Be Built to Canton.

The wise man who writes for the Wellsville Standard thinks on this line regarding the new railroad:

"The scheme will be a river route from Steubenville to Pittsburg. The Wheeling and Lake Erie, already running into Steubenville, the most feasible route will be to build from Steubenville to Rochester, and thence to Pittsburg by the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railway. This line has been surveyed. There you are, ready for the rolling stock and things. This is reliable news."

The Standard is wrong. The road will not be built from Steubenville, and the survey it speaks of was made so long ago that the stakes have rotted away.

WAS IT AN EARTHQUAKE?

Chandeliers Swayed and People Felt Uncomfortable.

An unusual happening caused wonder in the upper part of the city last night. When a family were seated at supper they felt the house quiver and the chandelier in the dining room began to sway to and fro. There was no noise, but the members of the family acknowledged that they felt uncomfortable. They did not know what had happened, and could not understand an earthquake. The same thing was noticed in other houses of that part of the city, but has not yet been explained. Sixth and Seventh streets seemed to be affected.

FEW CASES

Will Be Considered by the Grand Jury Next Week.

The grand jury convenes in Lisbon next week, but from present indications it will have little work to do. There are only four prisoners in the county jail, and the charges against them are by no means serious. At the sheriff's office it was learned there has been few reports of crime in the county the past few months, and indications point to little business for the grand jury.

THE FOG

Tied Up the Virginia at the Wharf This Morning.

The steamer Virginia arrived at the wharf this morning at 6 o'clock, and was compelled to tie up until the fog lifted. The fog was very heavy along the river and made traffic dangerous. The Virginia had a few passengers and one of the largest cargoes ever carried by a boat on the river.

The fog was felt by railroad men this morning. One brakeman noticed that it was not uniform. While it was thick and heavy at this place, the air was almost clear at Smith's Ferry. The same strange happening was noticed at other points up the river.

HUTCHESON OPPOSED A BILL.

He Spoke Against the Mossgrove Medical Bill.

When the Mossgrove medical bill, for which the doctors of Ohio have been working these past few years, came up in the house at Columbus yesterday it was bitterly opposed by Representative Hutcheson, of this county, who made a speech. He denounced it as a scheme to create an allopathic trust, excluding practically all schools of medicine, except the old school, which, he said, had been outstripped by more aggressive scientists, and they were compelled to appeal to the law to protect them in their orthodox and unprogressive theory. The bill passed the house.

A SUCCESSFUL PARTY.

The Ladies Entertained the Elks in Style.

The most notable private party of the week was the leap year tendered the Elks by the ladies who have so often enjoyed their hospitality. Dancing was the amusement, and the merry party continued it until long after midnight. An elaborate supper was served by the ladies, and the event in every other way made so successful that they were congratulated by the Elks, who know a thing or two, from past experience, of entertaining. Many amusing incidents occurred during the evening that added not a little to the pleasure of the occasion.

TORE UP THE CARD.

One Man Who Hated the Union Label.

A candidate for a county office was in town today passing around his cards when he met a man who does not like the union label. The fellow took his card and when he saw that it contained the guarantee that the man who made it was paid good wages, he tore it into fragments and threw it on the ground. The candidate was justly indignant, for the manner in which his name had been used was an insult which he would have resented had he been a larger man.

LOCATED A PIER.

Engineer Laub Then Went to Pittsburg.

Engineer Laub, of the bridge company, completed the work he was engaged in yesterday, and went to Pittsburg last night. He ran a few lines and checked on some of the work of Engineer Kerry over the river, and then crossing to this side, he located a pier in order that the contractor might give his men employment at once if the weather gives promise of remaining fine. The task of making the superstructure is already well under way.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS.

The Sebring Company Are Enlarging Their Plant.

Improvements are being made at the plant of the Sebring company that will greatly facilitate the work of producing ware. An addition is being built to the decorating shop which will allow when it is completed the employment of more decorators, and a story will be built above the pressing shop. This will be used as a warehouse and will be what the company have needed for some time. Another kiln will also be added to the plant at once.

THE MEETINGS CLOSED.

A Successful Series at the Christian Church.

The evangelistic meetings that have been in progress at the Christian church since the first of the year closed last night, and the membership of the church has been increased by 20 persons in consequence. Reverend Bowers, who has preached here several times, will at once begin meetings at his church in Wellsville. They will be attended by many persons from this city, who appreciate his efforts here.

Picking Up Pointers.

Superintendent Morley went to Steubenville this morning, where he spent the day in looking over the water works system and endeavoring to pick up a few pointers that might be beneficial to this city, if such were possible. He was accompanied by Mr. Ford, a representative of the company who make the hydrant's used here.

BOUGHT THE PIONEER

The Pottery Purchased by the Company.

IT BROUGHT A GOOD PRICE

H. Michaels Owning the Bulk of the Stock and Representing the Other Shareholders, Was the Only Bidder—The Price Paid Was $33,000—Will be Operated.

The dark clouds that have been hanging dangerously low over the Pioneer pottery of Wellsville were cleared away today when the plant passed again into the possession of the company.

The action was the result of a receiver's sale and cost the concern $33,000. The sale was made in the name of H. Michaels, who owns the bulk of the stock and represented the other shareholders today. Whether the plant will be operated to its fullest capacity from the present time could not be learned at the office of the company today, the statement being made that nothing was known of it there. Report, however, says there will be a complete reorganization, and the concern will do its best to make money.

The troubles of the company date back many months, when Stevenson & Co., of Wellsville, brought suit on an account, and claiming the concern was insolvent asked for a receiver. The court granted the petition and I. B. Clark got the place. He conducted the business for a time, and then made a report which did not suit John Sant, one of the stockholders and later deeply interested in a bill for public services which he presented to this city. He asked for a referee, and Frank E. Grosshans, of this place was appointed. Before he could make a report the receiver petitioned the court for the privilege of selling the plant, and got permission. It is understood that the company have been busy buying up claims against the property, and now that these are all in hand they will have plain sailing.

NO DECISION.

Trades Council Did Not Finish Out the Ticket.

The people who were expecting to read this evening all about the ticket of Trades council for the municipal campaign will be disappointed. They did not fill out the ticket. There was a meeting last night, but it was announced today that so many candidates for nomination presented themselves that it was decided to hold over until the next meeting, which will be held on Feb. 5. The candidates hand their names to the council, and they are then put on the ticket or rejected as the council sees fit.

CAREY SENT IT BACK.

Toddix Didn't Like the Baltimore Contract.

George Carey, the big first baseman of the Baltimore team, today received his contract from Manager Ned Hanlon, but did not put his signature to it. He acknowledged to a reporter this afternoon that Hanlon had offered him an increase over the salary he received last year, but it was not enough to justify him signing it, and he returned the paper. Carey is not particular whether he plays in Baltimore or some other city. He has a reputation, and can afford to be independent.

UNDER WAY.

Captain Porter's Company is Already Taking Form.

The statement a few weeks ago that Captain John Porter would form another company and erect a brick plant on the railroad above Cumberland has been confirmed, and stock is already being taken. The plant will be fitted up with all the improved appliances that can be obtained, according to a gentleman in this city who knows something of it, and will be built during the coming summer. A number of well known capitalists in this section are interested in the company.

TO BUY A POTTERY.

There May be a Change in a Wheeling Company.

It is reported here that Mr. Franzheim, the well known potter of Wheeling, will soon control the destinies of the North Wheeling pottery. The owners have been having trouble for some time, and have been unable to reach an amicable agreement. Mr. Franzheim, it is said, is interested in the concern in a small way, and has been offered the plant at a sum that would pay him to purchase. At present the pottery is engaged in the manufacture of a grade of china.

The steamer Virginia arrived at the wharf this morning at 6 o'clock, and was compelled to tie up until the fog lifted. The fog was very heavy along the river and made traffic dangerous. The Virginia had a few passengers and one of the largest cargoes ever carried by a boat on the river.

The fog was felt by railroad men this morning. One brakeman noticed that it was not uniform. While it was thick and heavy at this place, the air was almost clear at Smith's Ferry. The same strange happening was noticed at other points up the river.

HUTCHESON OPPOSED A BILL.

He Spoke Against the Mosgrove Medical Bill.

When the Mosgrove medical bill, for which the doctors of Ohio have been working these past few years, came up in the house at Columbus yesterday it was bitterly opposed by Representative Hutcheson, of this county, who made a speech. He denounced it as a scheme to create an allopathic trust, excluding practically all schools of medicine, except the old school, which, he said, had been outstripped by more aggressive scientists, and they were compelled to appeal to the law to protect them in their orthodox and unprogressive theory. The bill passed the house.

A SUCCESSFUL PARTY.

The Ladies Entertained the Elks in Style.

The most notable private party of the week was the leap year tendered the Elks by the ladies who have so often enjoyed their hospitality. Dancing was the amusement, and the merry party continued it until long after midnight. An elaborate supper was served by the ladies, and the event in every other way made so successful that they were congratulated by the Elks, who know a thing or two, from past experience, of entertaining. Many amusing incidents occurred during the evening that added not a little to the pleasure of the occasion.

TORE UP THE CARD.

One Man Who Hated the Union Label.

A candidate for a county office was in town today passing around his cards when he met a man who does not like the union label. The fellow took his card and when he saw that it contained the guarantee that the man who made it was paid good wages, he tore it into fragments and threw it on the ground. The candidate was justly indignant, for the manner in which his name had been used was an insult which he would have resented had he been a larger man.

LOCATED A PIER.

Engineer Laub Then Went to Pittsburg.

Engineer Laub, of the bridge company, completed the work he was engaged in yesterday, and went to Pittsburg last night. He ran a few lines and checked on some of the work of Engineer Kerry over the river, and then crossing to this side, he located a pier in order that the contractor might give his men employment at once if the weather gives promise of remaining fine. The task of making the superstructure is already well under way.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS.

The Sebring Company Are Enlarging Their Plant.

Improvements are being made at the plant of the Sebring company that will greatly facilitate the work of producing ware. An addition is being built to the decorating shop which will allow when it is completed the employment of more decorators, and a story will be built above the pressing shop. This will be used as a warehouse and will be what the company have needed for some time. Another kiln will also be added to the plant at once.

THE MEETINGS CLOSED.

A Successful Series at the Christian Church.

The evangelistic meetings that have been in progress at the Christian church since the first of the year closed last night, and the membership of the church has been increased by 20 persons in consequence. Reverend Bowers, who has preached here several times, will at once begin meetings at his church in Wellsville. They will be attended by many persons from this city, who appreciate his efforts here.

Picking Up Pointers.

Superintendent Morley went to Steubenville this morning, where he spent the day in looking over the water works system and endeavoring to pick up a few pointers that might be beneficial to this city, if such were possible. He was accompanied by Mr. Ford, a representative of the company who make the hydrant's used here.

BOUGHT THE PIONEER

The Pottery Purchased by the Company.

IT BROUGHT A GOOD PRICE

H. Michaels Owning the Bulk of the Stock and Representing the Other Shareholders, Was the Only Bidder—The Price Paid Was $33,000—Will be Operated.

The dark clouds that have been hanging dangerously low over the Pioneer pottery of Wellsville were cleared away today when the plant passed again into the possession of the company.

The action was the result of a receiver's sale and cost the concern $33,000. The sale was made in the name of H. Michaels, who owns the bulk of the stock and represented the other shareholders today. Whether the plant will be operated to its fullest capacity from the present time could not be learned at the office of the company today, the statement being made that nothing was known of it there. Report, however, says there will be a complete reorganization, and the concern will do its best to make money.

The troubles of the company date back many months, when Stevenson & Co., of Wellsville, brought suit on an account, and claiming the concern was insolvent asked for a receiver. The court granted the petition and I. B. Clark got the place. He conducted the business for a time, and then made a report which did not suit John Sant, one of the stockholders and later deeply interested in a bill for public services which he presented to this city. He asked for a referee, and Frank E. Grosshans, of this place was appointed. Before he could make a report the receiver petitioned the court for the privilege of selling the plant, and got permission. It is understood that the company have been busy buying up claims against the property, and now that these are all in hand they will have plain sailing.

NO DECISION.

Trades Council Did Not Finish Out the Ticket.

The people who were expecting to read this evening all about the ticket of Trades council for the municipal campaign will be disappointed. They did not fill out the ticket. There was a meeting last night, but it was announced today that so many candidates for nomination presented themselves that it was decided to hold over until the next meeting, which will be held on Feb. 5. The candidates hand their names to the council, and they are then put on the ticket or rejected as the council sees fit.

CAREY SENT IT BACK.

Tondix Didn't Like the Baltimore Contract.

George Carey, the big first baseman of the Baltimore team, today received his contract from Manager Ned Hanlon, but did not put his signature to it. He acknowledged to a reporter this afternoon that Hanlon had offered him an increase over the salary he received last year, but it was not enough to justify him signing it, and he returned the paper. Carey is not particular whether he plays in Baltimore or some other city. He has a reputation, and can afford to be independent.

UNDER WAY.

Captain Porter's Company is Already Taking Form.

The statement a few weeks ago that Captain John Porter would form another company and erect a brick plant on the railroad above Cumberland has been confirmed, and stock is already being taken. The plant will be fitted up with all the improved appliances that can be obtained, according to a gentleman in this city who knows something of it, and will be built during the coming summer. A number of well known capitalists in this section are interested in the company.

TO BUY A POTTERY.

There May be a Change in a Wheeling Company.

It is reported here that Mr. Franzheim, the well known potter of Wheeling, will soon control the destinies of the North Wheeling pottery. The owners have been having trouble for some time, and have been unable to reach an amicable agreement. Mr. Franzheim, it is said, is interested in the concern in a small way, and has been offered the plant at a sum that would pay him to purchase. At present the pottery is engaged in the manufacture of a grade of china.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, JAN. 30.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

The fight for county offices waxes warm, and it is poor a day indeed when a few candidates fail to visit the city and explain how much they always thought of East Liverpool.

If Representative Hutcheson would endear himself to the hearts of Columbiana county, he will insist on the committee of which he is a member making a thorough and complete investigation into the case of Mr. Spear.

If Ohio is going to have a centennial let it be a rouser. If we can afford to spend any money in that direction we can afford to spend an amount that will spread the fame of the state in every quarter of the civilized world.

The people of this city don't care a row of pins whether there is a police court or a mayor's court, a chief-of-police or a marshal. They simply want a good, clean government, conducted on lines that will allow the enforcement of the ordinances without fear or favor.

MCKINLEY OPPONENTS.

As we have had occasion to remark before, there are some people in Ohio opposed to William McKinley. To them it does not matter much whether it is as governor, congressman, president or citizen, they don't like him. To them he is worse than the worst, and they never speak of him except with a sneer. They lie about him at every opportunity, and when he was in congress misrepresented him in a manner that would have not been brooked by a man less mild. Now that he is an avowed candidate for the presidency and the people all over the land are rising in his behalf, demanding that their choice and their claims be recognized at the St. Louis convention, his defamers are lashing themselves into a rage. They have for months been fuming over some fancied warfare between Mr. McKinley and Mr. Foraker, and in spite of the fact that neither of these representative Buckeyes has missed an opportunity to say kind words of each other, the governor's enemies are as active as ever. Among the small fry pursuing this course is the Salem Herald, a paper whose politics, whether Democratic or Populist, is hard to determine. Suffice it to say that it hates McKinley first, last and all the time, and for no other reason than that it hates his doctrine of protection. But the Herald will do the cause of McKinley no harm. Its influence is for the narrow-minded, and is therefore of no avail whether it be for a cause or opposed to it.

He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that proved the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at the W. & W. pharmacy. A TORRENT OF ABUSE.

Tillman's Speech a Sensation In Senate History.

CLEVELAND AWFULLY MALIGNED.

Carlisle Called a Judas For His Alleged Desecration of the Silver Cause—Sherman Attacked—The Senate Reproached For Not Resorting to Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Such a torrent of invective has seldom been heard in the senate as the speech of Mr. Tillman. Veteran members of the senate characterized it as one of the most remarkable in the history of the upper branch of congress. It abounded in statements of a sensational character, arraigning President Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle and other men in high places. There was a directness of statement and a dramatic manner of delivery which awed floor and galleries. The gestures of the senator were used frequently in acting his words. At one point he made a profound salute and "tipped his hat to Sherman" as the financial victor of a quarter of a century. The galleries were moved alternately to applause and laughter. Pansying for a sip of water amid roars of laughter, he remarked: "I seldom wet my whistle while I speak; still you can't run a windmill on water."

The next moment there was a hush through the chamber as the senator applied such names as "Judas" to Secretary Carlisle for his alleged desertion of free silver, or characterized the president as a "coward" for not resorting to impeachment to stop the president in his course.

The senator declared that both the Republican and Democratic nominations in 1892 were controlled by Wall street and that the financial plank of the Democrat party was cunningly arranged so it could be construed either way. In the entire history of the country, he said, never had the office of president been so prostituted. Professing to be a civil service reformer, the president had only appointed those who would be submissive to his will. Violating his oath of office to uphold the law, he had paid out gold instead of coin and issued bonds to buy more gold, thus overriding the law to please his moneyed friends. At this point the senator called the president a "besotted tyrant," and then said:

"An honest secretary of the treasury, who should have resigned his office rather than submit to the dictation of a besotted chief, would have paid out silver to protect the treasury from the gold gamblers and bond gamblers, as the law and his oath of office required." He declared the secretary a "Judas" and declared it a pitiful spectacle to see this man, after a notable career of 20 years, always a friend of silver, to disgrace Democracy in his old age. He declared it was a disgrace to Southern statesmanship.

Discussing the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law which followed, he said: "Democrats and Republicans vied with each other in the furtherance of the policy which had been formulated and steadily pursued by the senator from Ohio."

He declared that friends of silver "may take warning as to what faith or trust they can put in any utterances or actions of the senator from Ohio as to legislation in regard to our finances."

Discussing the present tariff law he said: "It is true he (the president) did not sign it and allowed it to become a law without approval. But here again we have a spectacle of charlatanism and hypocrisy. A man of superior to his party which has always marked his career. The tariff law, which he repudiated as unworthy, involving 'party perjury and party dishonor,' is the sheet anchor to which he clings."

Further on, in discussing the gold question, he said: "Rothschild and his American agents graciously condescend to come to the help of the United States treasury in maintaining the gold standard which has wrought the ruin, and only charges a small commission of $10,000,000 or so. Great God! that this proud government, the richest, most powerful on the globe, should have been brought to so low a pass that a London Jew should have been appointed its receiver and presume to patronize us."

At another point he said: "The encroachments of the federal judiciary, and supineness and venality—corruption, I may say—of the representative branches of the government are causes of deep concern to all thinking and patriotic men. We are fast drifting into government by injunction in the interest of monopolies and corporations, and the supreme court, by one corrupt vote, annuls an act of congress looking to the taxation of the rich."

FAVOR CUBAN REBELS.

The President Urged to Ask This of Spain

BY SENATE FOREIGN COMMITTEE.

Strong Resolutions and a Vigorous Report Made by Mr. Morgan—Cameron Makes a Minority Report Urging This Country to Recognize the Rebels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The action which the senate foreign relations committee in its report to the senate urges the president to take in respect to Cuba is said by persons versed in diplomacy to be absolutely without precedent. It asks Spain to accord belligerent rights to its rebels against its government and never have such rights been accorded. A recognition of belligerency amounts to nothing unless manifested in a proclamation of neutrality, so the senate committee's report is equivalent to a request upon Spain to permit the United States to issue a proclamation declaring ourselves neutral as respects the present conflict in Cuba.

If it was the intention of the senate committee to secure humane treatment of the Cubans; to insure them against capital punishment under the charge of treason, this, it is said, might have been indicated by a request that Spain recognize the municipal belligerency of the insurgents, which would in no sense be equivalent to an admission of international belligerency. Because the United States government in our last war treated captive Confederates as prisoners of war, made exchanges of prisoners and recognized flags of truce, the nations of Europe held that we had recognized their belligerency, and immediately, by the issue of neutrality proclamations, proceeded practically to recognize the belligerency of the south themselves.

Mr. Seward entered a most vigorous protest and in the course of correspondence he made a very nice distinction, showing that the United States had been induced to treat the Confederates in this fashion solely from impulse of humanity and not from any consideration of international law. His protests were unavailing to affect the action of European nations, but he did place the United States on record in a fashion which will make it extremely difficult for our administration to reconcile Mr. Seward's utterances with a compliance with the request of congress, presuming that the senate committee's resolution will be adopted.

The report of the foreign relations committee was made by Mr. Morgan. The resolution says:

Resolved, By the senate (the house of representatives concurring) that the present deplorable war in the island of Cuba has reached a magnitude that concerns all civilized nations to the extent that it should be conducted, if unhappily it is longer to continue, on those principles and laws of warfare that are acknowledged to be obligatory upon civilized nations when engaged in open hostilities, including the treatment of captives who are enlisted in either army, due respect to cartels for exchange of prisoners and for other military purposes, truces and flags of truce; the provision of proper hospitals and hospital supplies and services to the sick and wounded of either army; be it further, Resolved, That this representation of the views and opinion of congress be sent to the president; and that if he concurs therein that he will in a friendly spirit use the good offices of this government to the end that Spain shall be requested to accord to the rebels with which it is engaged in war the rights of belligerents as the same are recognized under the law of nations.

The resolution was accompanied by a report expressing sympathy for the Cubans, and saying that the revolutions in that country disturb commerce with this country, cause filibustering, etc., and are a source of annoyance in many ways. The United States has always strictly observed the neutrality laws during all such struggles in Cuba. This has been done with the hopes that Spain would better the condition of the people of Cuba, which that country has failed to do.

It is neither just to the relations that exist between Cuba and the United States, nor is it keeping with the spirit of the age or the rights of humanity that this struggle should be protracted until one party or the other should become exhausted in the resources of men and money, thereby weakening both until they may fall prey to some strong power.

Attention is called to the inability of Spain to deal with the revolutionists, as a misfortune which it is unfair to visit upon the United States. "It is due," the report concludes, "to the situation of affairs in Cuba that Spain should recognize the existence of a state of war in the island and should voluntarily accord to the armies opposed to her authority the rights of belligerents under the laws of nations."

Following is the text of the resolution reported by Senator Cameron as a substitute for the Cuban resolution reported by the senate committee on foreign relations:

Resolved, That the president is hereby requested to interpose his friendly offices with the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba.

Referring to the insurrection in Cuba soon after the close of our civil war, Senator Cameron says:

"It is said that early in the year 1869 a proclamation was actually signed by President Grant recognizing the Cubans as belligerents, although the fact was known to very few persons. This proclamation was not promulgated, owing to the opposition of Secretary Fish."

The senator also quoted at some length from the message of President Grant for 1869, in which the president predicted that in due time Spain must find it to her interest to establish the independence of her dependent. He refers to the diplomatic efforts made at that time by this government to secure Cuban independence, which was to be on the following basis:

First—Independence of Cuba to be acknowledged by Spain. Second—Cuba to pay Spain for the relinquishment of her rights. Third—The abolition of slavery. Our government was to guarantee the payment of the indemnity.

Mr. Cameron attributes the fact that our government failed at that time to recognize the belligerency of the Cubans to the promises of reform made in Spain and to the internal strife in Spain which rendered our government loath to press an outside complication. He says, also, that Mr. Fish was irritated by the operations of the Cuban junta in this country, which, at times, infringed our neutrality laws. We also, at that time, had trouble of our own in the south. The action of our government was, he says, in striking contrast to that of Spain in recognizing the Confederates as belligerents.

Mr. Cameron also refers to other revolutions, during which our government was on the point of intervening. "The nicest sense of international requirements," he says, "cannot fail to perceive that provocation from Spain was overlooked by our government for a longer period and with greater patience than any other government of equal power would have tolerated."

After quoting at length the report made by General Campos in 1879, Mr. Cameron says: "The highest Spanish authorities have been obliged to confess that the grievances of the Cubans are just and their aspirations for liberty legitimate."

He says the Spanish government in Cuba is an armed monarchy. "The danger and scandal of the Cuban situation," he says, "have been such as can be compared with nothing but the condition of Armenia." He asserts that a state of war exists and that with that alone we have to deal. The precedents for recognition are, he says, clear, "and if our action were to be decided by precedent alone we should not be able to hesitate."

EUROPEAN GOLD WANTED.

The Treasury Department Will Favor Bond Buyers Who Get It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—No official or even a definite statement can be obtained at the treasury department as to what advantage bidders for the new bonds will receive who have obtained their gold from abroad. The department is extremely anxious that a large proportion of the gold offered in payment of the bonds shall be obtained in Europe, and for the purpose of encouraging imports it is intimated that the bidder who offers foreign gold or who demonstrates that he has gold on the way at the time the bids are opened will be given the preference in the awards, other things being equal, over others who offer domestic gold.

At this time the premium on gold in New York is quoted as three-eighths of one per cent for buying and five-eighths of one per cent for selling. As near as can be ascertained the average cost of importing gold from London is a little less than one-fifth of one per cent. Under these conditions a small profit, independent of the bond issue apparently could now be realized on gold imports.

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

The Retirement of Legal Tenders Favored by the Delegates.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The national board of trade has the report of the committee to which has been referred the several resolutions bearing upon the money and currency questions submitted by a number of the constituent bodies of the board.

The committee states that "the establishment of a sound, stable and efficient monetary system is essential to the restoration of confidence and the prosperity of our industrial interests, and such restoration is an immediate and urgent duty of congress; that the essential provisions in such a system should include the relief of the government by the retirement and cancellation of the legal tender notes under safe and proper conditions as to time and methods; also provision for the revision and extension of the national banking system under conditions which will maintain our monetary standard and secure to the country a safe and ample currency to take the place of the notes so retired."

Resolutions were adopted favoring reciprocity and the Torrey bankruptcy bill.

SPITWORK BY SCHOFIELD.

So a Judge Says Concerning the Major Armes Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—In the case of Major George A. Armes, the retired army officer whose arrest for insulting a superior officer was ordered by General Schofield, and who was released on a sensational ruling of Judge Bradley, Counsel Morrison for the defense, presented in the district supreme court the mandate of the court of appeals, reversing the ruling of the lower court. He explained that it was not the intention of the government to carry out in its entirety the decision of the court of appeals and again place Major Armes in close confinement pending court martial, but that the prosecution practically sought only to have its course vindicated. Major Armes' counsel agreed to these contentions of the prosecution.

The court in disposing of the case said the whole case appeared to be a piece of spite work on the part of General Schofield and that this belief was justified by the fact that there now appeared no intention to prosecute further. This action leaves Major Armes constructively under arrest, but it is probable the matter will not be pushed further.

President Returns From His Hunt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The light-house tender Maple, bearing the president and party comprising Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, and Captain Lamberton, naval inspector of lighthouses, returned from Quantico, Va., last night. The party were the guests of Colonel Webster Waller, whose duck feeding grounds and numerous blinds are reported to be among the best along the Potomac river. They killed lots of ducks.

If Representative Hutcheson would endear himself to the hearts of Columbiana county, he will insist on the committee of which he is a member making a thorough and complete investigation into the case of Mr. Spear.

If Ohio is going to have a centennial let it be a rouser. If we can afford to spend any money in that direction we can afford to spend an amount that will spread the fame of the state in every quarter of the civilized world.

The people of this city don't care a row of pins whether there is a police court or a mayor's court, a chief of police or a marshal. They simply want a good, clean government, conducted on lines that will allow the enforcement of the ordinances without fear or favor.

MCKINLEY OPPONENTS.

As we have had occasion to remark before, there are some people in Ohio opposed to William McKinley. To them it does not matter much whether it is a governor, congressman, president or citizen, they don't like him. To them he is worse than the worst, and they never speak of him except with a sneer. They lie about him at every opportunity, and when he was in congress misrepresented him in a manner that would have not been brooked by a man less mild. Now that he is an avowed candidate for the presidency and the people all over the land are rising in his behalf, demanding that their choice and their claims be recognized at the St. Louis convention, his defamers are lashing themselves into a rage. They have for months been fanning over some fancied warfare between Mr. McKinley and Mr. Foraker, and in spite of the fact that neither of these representative Buckeyes has missed an opportunity to say kind words of each other, the governor's enemies are as active as ever. Among the small fry pursuing this course is the Salem Herald, a paper whose politics, whether Democratic or Populist, is hard to determine. Suffice it to say that it hates McKinley first, last and all the time, and for no other reason than that it hates his doctrine of protection. But the Herald will do the cause of McKinley no harm. Its influence is for the narrow-minded, and is therefore of no avail whether it be for a cause or opposed to it.

A TORRENT OF ABUSE.

Tillman's Speech a Sensation In Senate History.

CLEVELAND AWFULLY MALIGNED.

Carlisle Called a Judas For His Alleged Description of the Silver Cause—Sherman Attacked—The Senate Reproached For Not Resorting to Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Such a torrent of invective has seldom been heard in the senate as the speech of Mr. Tillman. Veteran members of the senate characterized it as one of the most remarkable in the history of the upper branch of congress. It abounded in statements of a sensational character, arranging President Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle and other men in high places. There was a directness of statement and a dramatic manner of delivery which awed floor and galleries. The gestures of the senator were used frequently in acting his words. At one point he made a profound salute and "tipped his hat to Sherman" as the financial victor of a quarter of a century. The galleries were moved alternately to applause and laughter. Pausing for a sip of water amid roars of laughter, he remarked: "I seldom wet my whistle while I speak; still you can't run a windmill on water."

The next moment there was a hush through the chamber as the senator applied such names as "Judas" to Secretary Carlisle for his alleged desertion of free silver, or characterized the president in bitter terms. At times the senator's voice sank to a whisper, as, for instance, when he gave warning of the approach of a popular revolution and communism and the marching on Washington of a host of men with rifles in their hands. Again his voice resounded through the chamber and the outer corridors as he called senators and members "cowards" for not resorting to impeachment to stop the president in his course.

The senator declared that both the Republican and Democratic nominations in 1892 were controlled by Wall street and that the financial plank of the Democrat party was cunningly arranged so it could be construed either way. In the entire history of the country, he said, never had the office of president been so prostituted. Professing to be a civil service reformer, the president had only appointed those who would be submissive to his will. Violating his oath of office to uphold the law, he had paid out gold instead of coin and issued bonds to buy more gold, thus overriding the law to please his moneyed friends. At this point the senator called the president a "besotted tyrant," and then said:

"An honest secretary of the treasury, who should have resigned his office rather than submit to the dictation of a besotted chief, would have paid out silver to protect the treasury from the gold gamblers and bond gamblers, as the law and his oath of office required." He called the secretary a "Judas" and declared it a pitiful spectacle to see this man, after a notable career of 20 years, always a friend of silver, to disgrace Democracy in his old age. He declared it was a disgrace to Southern statesmanship.

Discussing the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law which followed, he said: "Democrats and Republicans vied with each other in the furtherance of the policy which had been formulated and steadily pursued by the senator from Ohio."

He declared that friends of silver "may take warning as to what faith or trust they can put in any utterances or actions of the senator from Ohio as to legislation in regard to our finances."

Discussing the present tariff law he said: "It is true he (the president) did not sign it and allowed it to become a law without approval. But here again we have a spectacle of charity and hypocrisy. Assumption of superiority to his party which has always marked his career. The tariff law, which he repudiated as unworthy, involving party perfidy and party dishonor, is the sheet anchor to which he clings."

Further on, in discussing the gold question, he said: "Rothschild and his American agents graciously condescend to come to the help of the United States treasury in maintaining the gold standard which has wrought the ruin, and only charges a small commission of $10,000,000 or so. Great God! that this proud government, the richest, most powerful on the globe, should have been brought to so low a pass that a London Jew should have been appointed its receiver and presume to patronize us."

At another point he said: "The encroachments of the federal judiciary, and supineness and venality—corruption, I may say—of the representative branches of the government are causes of deep concern to all thinking and patriotic men. We are fast drifting into government by injunction in the interest of monopolies and corporations, and the supreme court, by one corrupt vote, annuls an act of congress looking to the taxation of the rich."

FAVOR CUBAN REBELS.

The President Urged to Ask This of Spain

BY SENATE FOREIGN COMMITTEE.

Strong Resolutions and a Vigorous Report Made by Mr. Morgan—Cameron Makes a Minority Report Urging This Country to Recognize the Rebels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The action which the senate foreign relations committee in its report to the senate urges the president to take in respect to Cuba is said by persons versed in diplomacy to be absolutely without precedent. It asks Spain to accord belligerent rights to its rebels against its government and never have such rights been accorded. A recognition of belligerency amounts to nothing unless manifested in a proclamation of neutrality, so the senate committee's report is equivalent to a request upon Spain to permit the United States to issue a proclamation declaring its neutrality in Cuba.

If it was the intention of the senate committee to secure humane treatment of the Cubans; to insure them against capital punishment under the charge of treason, this, it is said, might have been indicated by a request that Spain recognize the municipal belligerency of the insurgents, which would in no sense be equivalent to an admission of international belligerency. Because the United States government in our last war treated captive Confederates as prisoners of war, made exchanges of prisoners and recognized flags of truce, the nations of Europe held that we had recognized their belligerency, and immediately, by the issue of neutrality proclamations, proceeded practically to recognize the belligerency of the south themselves.

Mr. Seward entered a most vigorous protest and in the course of correspondence he made a very nice distinction, showing that the United States had been induced to treat the Confederates in this fashion solely from impulse of humanity and not from any consideration of international law. His protests were unavailing to affect the action of European nations, but he did place the United States on record in a fashion that will make it extremely difficult for our administration to reconcile Mr. Seward's utterances with a compliance with the request of congress, presuming that the senate committee's resolution will be adopted.

The report of the foreign relations committee was made by Mr. Morgan. The resolution says:

Resolved, By the senate (the house of representatives concurring) that the president declare war in the island of Cuba has reached a magnitude that concerns all civilized nations to the extent that it should be conducted, if unhappily it is longer to continue, on those principles and laws of warfare that are acknowledged to be obligatory upon civilized nations when engaged in open hostilities, including the treatment of captives who are enlisted in either army, due respect to cartels for exchange of prisoners and for other military purposes, truces and flags of truce; the provision of proper hospitals and hospital supplies and services to the sick and wounded of either army; be it further, Resolved, That this presentation of the views and opinion of congress be sent to the president; and that if he concurs therein that he will in a friendly spirit use the good offices of this government to the end that Spain shall be requested to accord to the armies with which it is engaged in war the rights of belligerents as the same are recognized under the law of nations.

The resolution was accompanied by a report expressing sympathy for the Cubans, and saying that the revolutions in that country disturb commerce with this country, cause filibustering, etc., and are a source of annoyance in many ways. The United States has always strictly observed the neutrality laws during all such struggles in Cuba. This has been done with the hopes that Spain would better the condition of the people of Cuba, which that country has failed to do.

It is neither just to the relations that exist between Cuba and the United States, nor is it keeping with the spirit of the age or the rights of humanity that this struggle should be protracted until one party or the other should become exhausted in the resources of money and money, thereby weakening both until they may fall prey to some strong power.

Attention is called to the inability of Spain to deal with the revolutionists, as a misfortune which it is unfair to visit upon the United States. "It is due," the report concludes, "to the situation of affairs in Cuba that Spain should recognize the existence of a state of war in the island and should voluntarily accord to the armies opposed to her authority the rights of belligerents under the laws of nations."

Following is the text of the resolution reported by Senator Cameron as a substitute for the Cuban resolution reported by the senate committee on foreign relations:

Resolved, That the president is hereby requested to interpose his friendly offices with the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba.

Referring to the insurrection in Cuba soon after the close of our civil war, Senator Cameron says:

"It is said that early in the year 1869 a proclamation was actually signed by President Grant recognizing the Cubans as belligerents, although the fact was known to very few persons. This proclamation was not promulgated, owing to the opposition of Secretary Fish."

The senator also quoted at some length from the message of President Grant for 1869, in which the president predicted that in due time Spain must find it to her interest to establish the independence of her dependent. He refers to the diplomatic efforts made at that time by this government to secure Cuban independence, which was to be on the following basis:

First—Independence of Cuba to be acknowledged by Spain. Second—Cuba to pay Spain for the relinquishment of her rights. Third—The abolition of slavery. Our government was to guarantee the payment of the indemnity.

Mr. Cameron attributes the fact that our government failed at that time to recognize the belligerency of the Cubans to the promises of reform made in Spain and to the internal strife in Spain which rendered our government loath to press an outside complication. He says, also, that Mr. Fish was irritated by the operations of the Cuban junta in this country, which, at times, infringed our neutrality laws. We also, at that time, had trouble of our own in the south. The action of our government was, he says, in striking contrast to that of Spain in recognizing the Confederates as belligerents.

Mr. Cameron also refers to other revolutions, during which our government was on the point of intervening. "The nicest sense of international requirements," he says, "cannot fail to perceive that provocation from Spain was overlooked by our government for a longer period and with greater patience than any other government of equal power would have tolerated."

After quoting at length the report made by General Campos in 1879, Mr. Cameron says: "The highest Spanish authorities have been obliged to confess that the grievances of the Cubans are just and their aspirations for liberty legitimate."

He says the Spanish government in Cuba is an armed monarchy. "The danger and scandal of the Cuban situation," he says, "have been such as can be compared with nothing but the condition of Armenia." He asserts that a state of war exists and that with that alone we have to deal. The precedents for recognition are, he says, clear, "and if our action were to be decided by precedent alone we should not be able to hesitate."

He asserts that the insurgents have made a record which entitles them to recognition, and adds "if the government of the United States still refrains from recognizing the belligerency of the insurgents after this conclusive proof of the fact, the reason doubtless is that in the absence of legal complications the question becomes wholly political and that its true solution must lie not in a recognition of belligerency, but in a recognition of independence." He says in conclusion that he is confident that no other action accords with our friendly relations with Spain, our just sympathy with Cuba and with our dignity and consistency.

EUROPEAN GOLD WANTED.

The Treasury Department Will Favor Bond Buyers Who Get It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—No official or even a definite statement can be obtained at the treasury department as to what advantage bidders for the new bonds will receive who have obtained their gold from abroad. The department is extremely anxious that a large proportion of the gold offered in payment of the bonds shall be obtained in Europe, and for the purpose of encouraging imports it is intimated that the bidder who offers foreign gold or who demonstrates that he has gold on the way at the time the bids are opened will be given the preference in the awards, other things being equal, over others who offer domestic gold.

At this time the premium on gold in New York is quoted as three-eighths of one per cent for buying and five-eighths of one per cent for selling. As near as can be ascertained the average cost of importing gold from London is a little less than one-fifth of one per cent. Under these conditions a small profit, independent of the bond issue apparently could now be realized on gold imports.

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

The Retirement of Legal Tender Notes Favored by the Delegates.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The national board of trade has the report of the committee to which has been referred the several resolutions bearing upon the money and currency questions submitted by a number of the constituent bodies of the board.

The committee states that "the establishment of a sound, stable and efficient monetary system is essential to the restoration of confidence and the prosperity of our industrial interests, and such restoration is an immediate and urgent duty of congress; that the essential provisions in such a system should include the relief of the government by the retirement and cancellation of the legal tender notes under safe and proper conditions as to time and methods; also provision for the revision and extension of the national banking system under conditions which will maintain our monetary standard and secure to the country a safe and ample currency to take the place of the notes so retired."

Resolutions were adopted favoring reciprocity and the Torrey bankruptcy bill.

SPITEWORK BY SCHOFIELD.

So a Judge Says Concerning the Major Armes Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—In the case of Major George A. Armes, the retired army officer whose arrest for insulting a superior officer was ordered by General Schofield, and who was released on a sensational ruling of Judge Bradley, Counsel Morrison for the defense, presented in the district supreme court the mandate of the court of appeals, reversing the ruling of the lower court. He explained that it was not the intention of the government to carry out in its entirety the decision of the court of appeals and again place Major Armes in close confinement pending court martial, but that the prosecution practically sought only to have its course vindicated. Major Armes' counsel agreed to these contentions of the prosecution.

The court in disposing of the case said the whole case appeared to be a piece of spite work on the part of General Schofield and that this belief was justified by the fact that there now appeared no intention to prosecute further. This action leaves Major Armes constructively under arrest, but it is probable the matter will not be pushed further.

President Returns From His Hunt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The light-house tender Maple, bearing the president and party comprising Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, and Captain Lamberton, naval inspector of lighthouses, returned from Quantico, Va., last night. A FATAL WEDDING.
Guests Carried to the Cellar by a Falling Floor.
PILED FOUR AND FIVE DEEP.
The Clothing of Some of the Women Caught Fire and a Panic Occurred. One Fatally Injured and Others More or Less Hurt.
SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 30.—One hundred and fifty guests had assembled at the home of Albert H. Baker, near this city, to attend the wedding of Baker's daughter. Just as the ceremony was about to begin the floor suddenly gave away, precipitating about 75 people into the cellar, a distance of 10 feet. Fortunately the lamp was extinguished, but candles set fire to the clothing of some of the women and a panic ensued.
The people were piled four and five deep, and it was some time before the fire was extinguished and the guests extricated from the cellar. Mrs. H. N. Norton was fatally injured and William Arnold and William Starr were badly hurt, while many others received less serious injuries.
AN EARLY CONVENTION.
Immediate Steps For McKinley to Be Taken by Ohio Republicans.
CANTON, Jan. 30.—Hon. J. M. Ickes of Newark, chairman of the Ohio state central committee, has called on ex-Governor McKinley and said he would issue a call today for a meeting of the state central committee at Columbus on Saturday, Feb. 8, to fix the time and place for holding the Ohio Republican state convention.
"There is an overwhelming demand," said he, "for an early convention this year. The Republicans are a unit for McKinley for the presidency, and that is the first and chief interest they now have in politics. I have talked with a large number of prominent Republicans and have had a great many letters on the subject and they are all of the same opinion. All agree that we should at once take steps toward holding our convention."

Farley, a young adjutant in the Fifth regiment, Ohio national guard, disappeared last week, and subsequent investigation showed that he had had trouble with his business partners and had probably gone to enlist for the Cuban war. He must have reached Philadelphia just in time to embark on the ill-fated steamer Hawkins with other filibusters.

A FATAL WEDDING.

Guests Carried to the Cellar by a Falling Floor.

PILED FOUR AND FIVE DEEP.

The Clothing of Some of the Women Caught Fire and a Panic Occurred. One Fatally Injured and Others More or Less Hurt.

SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 30.—One hundred and fifty guests had assembled at the home of Albert H. Baker, near this city, to attend the wedding of Baker's daughter. Just as the ceremony was about to begin the floor suddenly gave away, precipitating about 75 people into the cellar, a distance of 10 feet. Fortunately the lamp was extinguished, but candles set fire to the clothing of some of the women and a panic ensued.

The people were piled four and five deep, and it was some time before the fire was extinguished and the guests extricated from the cellar. Mrs. H. N. Norton was fatally injured and William Arnold and William Starr were badly hurt, while many others received less serious injuries.

AN EARLY CONVENTION.

Immediate Steps For McKinley to Be Taken by Ohio Republicans.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—Hon. J. M. Ickes of Newark, chairman of the Ohio state central committee, has called on ex-Governor McKinley and said he would issue a call today for a meeting of the state central committee at Columbus on Saturday, Feb. 8, to fix the time and place for holding the Ohio Republican state convention.

"There is an overwhelming demand," said he, "for an early convention this year. The Republicans are a unit for McKinley for the presidency, and that is the first and chief interest they now have in politics. I have talked with a large number of prominent Republicans and have had a great many letters on the subject and they are all of the same opinion. All agree that we should at once take steps toward holding our convention."

A NATIONAL AFFAIR.

The Republican Celebration at Cleveland to Be a Big Affair.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—The celebration by the Tippecanoe club in this city Feb. 20 of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Republican party will be, in some respects, a national affair.

The speakers will be Hon. William McKinley, Governor Bushnell, Lieutenant Governor Jones, Speaker Sleeper of the state legislature, J. Sloat Fassett of New York, Governor Bradley of Kentucky, Mayor Piquette of Detroit, Senator Sherman, Senator-elect Foraker, Congressman Burton and Beach and Henry C. Hedges of Mansfield, O., who attended the first Republican national convention in 1856.

OHIO LEGISLATURE.

Election of Senators by Popular Vote Favored by the Senate.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—The senate has passed the following bills:

Relegating power to change persons names solely to probate and common pleas courts.

Empowering mothers to appoint guardians for their children.

The house joint resolution favoring election of United States senators by popular vote was adopted after a heated discussion, 23 to 13.

These bills were passed by the house: Senate bill providing that bonds issued for county purposes may run 20 years.

Senate bill authorizing boards of education to refund bonds.

May Have Perished on the Hawkins.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Ira C. Farley, a young adjutant in the Fifth regiment, Ohio national guard, disappeared last week, and subsequent investigation showed that he had had trouble with his business partners and had probably gone to enlist for the Cuban war. He must have reached Philadelphia just in time to embark on the ill-fated steamer Hawkins with other filibusters.

More Victims of the Folding Bed.

FORTORIA, O., Jan. 30.—A folding bed closed up on Mrs. M. H. Bohrer, wife of the traveling passenger agent of the Mobile and Ohio, and her mother, Mrs. P. Esselman, the other night. Mrs. Bohrer managed to kick the end out of the bed and crawl out. She is fatally injured. Mrs. Esselman will recover.

McKinley and Reed Forces Fighting.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—The meeting of the Republican state convention today is proving one of the stormiest sessions in the history of the party in this state. McKinley already has four district delegates and a fight is on between McKinley and Reed men for the four delegates at large.

Tailors Win a Victory.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—With the exception of half a dozen contractors who still refuse to comply with the terms of the new agreement making it compulsory on them to discharge their non-union employees, the tailors' lockout is practically over.

Woodson Becomes a Catholic.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 30.—Ex-Governor Silas Woodson has been baptized into the Roman Catholic church. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Burke and Father Newman of the Cathedral. The ex-governor is nearing the end of life.

Brief Session of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The house adjourned early after ineffectual efforts to pass bills to donate a condemned cannon and relax present pension laws.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Daly, West End, a daughter.

Mark Huston, of Broadway, is one of the many who suffer from the grip.

The newly elected elders of the Second U. P. church were ordained last night.

The prizes for the dog show are on exhibition, and are attracting much attention.

John Naylor, of Bazil avenue, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is recovering.

The trolley of one of the cars got out of order yesterday afternoon and a number of cars were bunched on the Sixth street switch, traffic being delayed for some time.

George McGinnis, of the clerical force of the freight depot, arrived home yesterday, after a month's trip through the western states. He will resume his duties at once.

Mrs. Joseph Williams, of this city, has had erected in Riverview cemetery a handsome monument. It is in memory of her father, Doctor Edward Larkins, and her mother and sister.

An interesting Rugby football match took place yesterday afternoon on Third street between two teams composed of small boys. The contest was brief, but was furious while it lasted.

A dog was killed by a street car in Tophet yesterday, and if the manner in which the woman rushed out and berated the motorman is any indication, the dead animal was popular with all classes.

The story is told that a young potter of this city went to Youngstown on Monday, got gloriously drunk, and was placed under arrest. He had enough money to pay for his fun, and came home a poorer man.

"I am very much taken with this plan of a crockery show in New York," said a prominent resident, "but Trenton could not be induced to enter the scheme on a large scale. They don't spend much money for advertising."

If the river and harbor commission could have seen the Ohio when the coal fleet was going down this week, they would not have hesitated in declaring that the commerce of the stream was great enough to demand attention.

When the river and harbor committee gets to Wheeling on its trip of inspection it will be given a great reception. The board of commerce should invite the party to visit this city and entertain them well while they are here.

An amusing incident occurred on Second street yesterday afternoon. The driver of a wagon loaded with fresh cakes and bread attempted to turn into an alley, and the load was dumped into the street. Blushing the driver, who happens to be a bashful man, picked up the load.

Mrs. Harry Hughes is lying ill with an attack of fever at the home of a friend in Ohioville. She drove out to the place a few days ago and contracted a severe cold, which resulted in her present condition. Her husband was summoned to her bedside, but it is not thought the illness will prove serious.

It is learned, now that the Phoenix telephone project is dead, that the company would not have objected to giving the city 12 free phones. On the other hand the officers were sharp enough to see that the number used by the city would have given them prestige and made the best kind of an advertisement.

Set himself up as a weather prophet, and has sent to the weather man of Pittsburgh a detailed statement of what the weather will be during February. In his mind's eye he sees blizzards and storms without number, and promises such weather as would make one shudder to hear of it.

Out of respect for the memory of Captain B. F. Wilson, who died a few days ago in Pittsburgh, the boats that pass up and down the Ohio are carrying the stars and stripes at half mast.

Captain Wilson was one of the most widely known and popular rivermen around this part of the country and his demise is regretted by all who knew him.

The revival meetings continue with unabated interest at the First M. E. church. There were five supplicants at the mercy seat last night. A large number of persons have professed conversion during the present series of meetings and strong accessions have been made to the membership of the church. Services tonight, as usual. You have an earnest invitation to be present.

GEO. C. MURPHY

The Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher, Will Save You Money.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and hustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. Rent and a hundred other expenses go on just as before, and as we can't make money anyway, we might as well lose it with a crowd as in solitude. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. For example, if a coat is marked $16 take it along at $12; or if marked at $8 take it along at $6. In our suit and pants department we will make you reductions that will open your eyes. Come at once as our stock must be reduced.

TO TEAR DOWN POLES

The Bell Company Will Make Some Changes.

COMPLYING WITH ORDINANCES

Every Pole in Town Will be Painted a Rich Green Color and New Ones Will be Set on all the Principal Streets—Soon to be Done.

In spite of the fact that the Bell company makes a monopoly under which the people groan when they think of prices the great concern proposes to change its lines in this city during the spring.

A large construction party is always employed by the Central District, and for several years they have been very busy extending lines and rebuilding others, the work being laid out from the Pittsburgh office. Among the improvements contemplated for the spring is a lot of work in this city, and the men will be sent here to do it as soon as the line they are now engaged on is done. They will root out the poles on the principal streets and replace them with the best grade used by the company. These will be painted a dark green, and every person who decorates one with handbills or notices will be prosecuted according to the law. The best of the old poles will be placed in alleys and back streets, where they will not be seen, and they, too, will be painted. A barrel of paint has already arrived for that purpose. The lines will be rebuilt and rearranged in the most convenient manner possible, and the system here made as perfect as it can be. It is remarked, however, that the company says not a word about lowering the rates.

RECOGNIZED.

Has Been the Worth of Mr. H. A. Weeks.

Mr. H. A. Weeks, for nine years in the office of the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson company in East End, will leave on Monday for Pittsburgh where he will take up a special position in the office of the Central Sewerpipe association, the compact. With the position goes a substantial advancement in salary. Mr. Weeks has long been a resident of the city, and does not propose to give it up at present. His family will reside in East End. The gentleman is well known, being a leading Odd Fellow and chairman of the Association lecture course committee. His many friends wish him boundless success in his new venture.

WE HAVE GOLD.

Some Has Been Seen Circulating the Past Few Days.

The condition of the money market is such that little gold is seen in circulation. When people get it they usually keep it if they can afford to take that course, and not much is taken in exchange for merchandise. The clerk in a gents' furnishing establishment almost dropped dead the other day, when he was handed a double eagle and later another clerk smiled sweetly when she took up a two dollar and half piece. A dry goods store got a gold eagle on Saturday and a tobacco store took in a piece of the same kind.

OBJECT TO THE RATE.

Theatrical People are Down on the Railroad.

The agent of a theatrical company was in town last night, and protested vigorously against the rate charged by the railroad companies for hauling a baggage car. Until the first of this year the Pennsylvania company was the only one to charge 25 cents a mile, and the companies dodged those lines whenever it is possible; but now the others have advanced to the same figure, and the theatrical people are desperate. The agent said the result would be the carrying of less scenery and baggage by companies.

CLIFTON & MIDDLETON.

A Big Repertoire Company Coming Next Week.

The attraction at the Grand next week will be the Clifton & Middleton comedy company, the finest company of its kind on the road. They have played a most successful season, and have presented their performances to many thousands of people. The character of the company can not be denied and every one of the 25 people employed is good. The company has a fine list of plays and will undoubtedly attract much attention and crowded houses.

Bargains, Bargains.

The property of William H. Cook, in Jackson square, Lisbon street and Sunnyside was sold this morning by Sheriff Gill. An Animated Discussion.

There was an animated discussion in the office of Clerk Gipner, of the water works, this afternoon. A property owner of Third street and a plumber were the principals, the former charging the latter with breaking the law in regard to the plumbing of his house. The plumber claimed that he was ignorant of the law as regards that matter, and it may be that he will not be called upon to pay the fine of $50 imposed in such cases.

A HARD-WORKING WOMAN

—sooner or later suffers from headache, nervous, worn-out feelings, or a sense of weight in the abdomen, dragging down sensations and dizziness. It will all come to an end with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for it's woman's special tonic and nerve; it restores her strength, regulates and promotes all the natural functions and makes a new woman of her. Uterine debility, irregularity and inflammation are most often the cause of the extreme nervousness and irritability of some women—the medicine to cure it is the "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce. All the aches, pains and weaknesses of womanhood vanish where it is faithfully employed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is therefore just the medicine for young girls just entering womanhood and for women at the critical "change of life."

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

CURES THE WORST CASES.

MR. HOMER CLARK, of No. 208 West 3d Street, Sioux City, Ia., writes: "My wife was troubled with female weakness, and averts of the uterus. She had been doctoring with every doctor of any good reputation, and had spent lots of money in hospitals, but to no purpose. She continued to get worse. We tried a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. We had seen some of your advertisements, and Mr. Cummings, a west-side druggist, advised us to try a bottle. We tried it with the following results: The first bottle did her so much good that we bought another, and have continued until she has been cured."

The jury gave him what he asked, and he got $15.55, the difference between his claim and the bill of the company. The case was in Squire Manley's court.

H. Hickey filed suit in Squire Manley's court against Clara Nayle for forcible detention.

John Lutton sued James N. Baxter in the same court for $8.50. The amount is due for sand and labor.

Get Out the Scraper.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I noticed in the paper the other evening that the street sweeper had been out in the Diamond. Bulger, druggist.

ASKED FOR A DIVORCE

Mrs. Susan Watson is After Her Husband.

HE HAS LONG BEEN GONE

She Wants the Court to Separate Them in the Right Way—A Chicago Company Sued—Some Marriage Licenses—Made a Guardian.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—The first divorce case from East Liverpool for almost a week appeared in court today in an application filed by Mrs. Sarah Watson who wants a legal separation from her husband, William A. Watson. So far as the actual separation is concerned William seems to have settled it long ago, and his wife now seeks to do it legally. They were married four years ago, and the petition charges that William has been away the greater part of that time.

The Standard Electric company, of Chicago, was today sued by Russell & Co., of Massillon, in this county for $798 50. Suit is brought on an attachment on property in Columbiana which belongs to the defendant.

A note given 11 years ago by Aaron Broomall to David Miller, caused a suit in court today because it is unpaid. The amount involved is $500.

The following marriage licenses were issued: Charles G. Pepin and Hannah Gamble, East Liverpool; Louis P. Kennedy and Amanda Fife, J. W. White and Mary Miller, J. B. Weaver and Clara B. Waunee, Aaron Stewart and Mary M. Moran.

Edward Schneider was made the guardian of L. C. Schneider in probate court, and bond was fixed at $100. It is the first step in a damage suit. The parties are from East Liverpool.

Helpless as a Child.

Miss Rose Stewart, a young woman residing on Waterloo road, is ill with rheumatism and has been confined to her room for months. She is as helpless as a child and suffers terribly at times. Her friends are of the opinion that she cannot recover.

May Play Ball.

Dock Howard, the well known colored man, who has a reputation as a ball player, was in town today after an absence of several months. He has been offered a position with the Keystone and may accept.

Selected the Uniforms.

The members of the Shamrock club have selected their uniforms for next season. The trousers will be blue and the shirts of a beautiful cream color. The club will give a dance next month.

Cut Out the Gong.

The wire which controls the fire alarm in the residence of Chief Adam became crossed in some way with another last night, and the gong was rendered useless. The damage was repaired today.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments that chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Parties who have signed for tickets to General Gordon's lecture will be called on by a collector tomorrow (Friday) with tickets and chart, so they can select their seats.

Secured a Contract.

The contract for the new building to be erected by John Rinehart has been let to John H. Harris & Son, and work will be commenced on the brick work next Monday. The price is not given out.

Very Quiet Last Night.

The lack of business continues about city hall, and the police have nothing to do. Not an arrest was made last night nor during today.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy.

Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Weeks, for nine years in the office of the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson company in East End, will leave on Monday for Pittsburgh where he will take up a special position in the office of the Central Sewerpipe association, the compact. With the position goes a substantial advancement in salary. Mr. Weeks has long been a resident of the city, and does not propose to give it up at present. His family will reside in East End. The gentleman is well known, being a leading Odd Fellow and chairman of the Association lecture course committee. His many friends wish him boundless success in his new venture.

WE HAVE GOLD.

Some Has Been Seen Circulating the Past Few Days.

The condition of the money market is such that little gold is seen in circulation. When people get it they usually keep it if they can afford to take that course, and not much is taken in exchange for merchandise. The clerk in a gent's furnishing establishment almost dropped dead the other day, when he was handed a double eagle and later another clerk smiled sweetly when she took up a two dollar and half piece. A dry goods store got a gold eagle on Saturday and a tobacco store took in a piece of the same kind.

OBJECT TO THE RATE.

Theatrical People are Down on the Railroads.

The agent of a theatrical company was in town last night, and protested vigorously against the rate charged by the railroad companies for hauling a baggage car. Until the first of this year the Pennsylvania company was the only one to charge 25 cents a mile, and the companies dodged those lines whenever it is possible; but now the others have advanced to the same figure, and the theatrical people are desperate. The agent said the result would be the carrying of less scenery and baggage by companies.

CLIFTON & MIDDLETON.

An Animated Discussion.

There was an animated discussion in the office of Clerk Gipner, of the water works, this afternoon. A property owner of Third street and a plumber were the principals, the former charging the latter with breaking the law in regard to the plumbing of his house. The plumber claimed that he was ignorant of the law as regards that matter, and it may be that he will not be called upon to pay the fine of $50 imposed in such cases.

A HARD-WORKING WOMAN

—sooner or later suffers from backache, nervous, worn-out feelings, or a sense of weight in the abdomen, dragging down sensations and dizziness. It will all come to an end with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for it's woman's special tonic and nerve; it restores her strength, regulates and promotes all the natural functions and makes a new woman of her. Uterine debility, irregularity and inflammation are most often the cause of the extreme nervousness and irritability of some women—the medicine to cure it is the "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce. All the aches, pains and weaknesses of womanhood vanish where it is faithfully employed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is therefore just the medicine for young girls just entering womanhood and for women at the critical "change of life."

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

CURES THE WORST CASES.

Mr. HOMER CLARK, of No. 22 West 14th Street, Sioux City, Ia., writes: "My wife was troubled with female weakness, and all the aches and pains of the system. She had been doctoring with every kind of medicine, but as a last resort we tried a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. We had seen some of your advertisements, and Mr. Cummings, a west-side druggist, advised us to try a bottle. We tried it with the following results: The first bottle did her so much good that we bought another, and have continued until she has been cured."

Get Out the Scraper.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I noticed in the paper the other evening that the street sweeper had been out in the Diamond. ASKED FOR A DIVORCE

Mrs. Susan Watson is After Her Husband.

HE HAS LONG BEEN GONE

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—The first divorce case from East Liverpool for almost a week appeared in court today in an application filed by Mrs. Sarah Watson who wants a legal separation from her husband, William A. Watson. So far as the actual separation is concerned William seems to have settled it long ago, and his wife now seeks to do it legally. They were married four years ago, and the petition charges that William has been away the greater part of that time.

The Standard Electric company, of Chicago, was today sued by Russell & Co., of Massillon, in this county for $798.50. Suit is brought on an attachment on property in Columbiana which belongs to the defendant.

A note given 11 years ago by Aaron Broomall to David Miller, caused a suit in court today because it is unpaid. The amount involved is $500.

The following marriage licenses were issued: Charles G. Pepin and Hannah Gamble, East Liverpool; Louis P. Kennedy and Amanda Fife, J. W. White and Mary Miller, J. B. Weaver and Clara B. Waunee, Aaron Stewart and Mary M. Moran.

Edward Schneider was made the guardian of L. C. Schneider in probate court, and bond was fixed at $100. It is the first step in a damage suit. The parties are from East Liverpool.

Helpless as a Child.

Miss Rose Stewart, a young woman residing on Waterloo road, is ill with rheumatism and has been confined to her room for months. She is as helpless as a child and suffers terribly at times. Her friends are of the opinion that she cannot recover.

May Play Ball.

Dock Howard, the well known colored man, who has a reputation as a ball player, was in town today after an absence of several months. He has been offered a position with the Keystones and may accept.

Selected the Uniforms.

The members of the Shamrock club have selected their uniforms for next season. The trousers will be blue and the shirts of a beautiful cream color. The club will give a dance next month.

Cut Out the Gong.

The wire which controls the fire alarm in the residence of Chief Adam became crossed in some way with another last night, and the gong was rendered useless. The damage was repaired today.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health.

In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Parties who have signed for tickets to General Gordon's lecture will be called on by a collector tomorrow (Friday) with tickets and chart, so they can select their seats.

Secured a Contract.

The contract for the new building to be erected by John Rinehart has been let to John H. Harris & Son, and work will be commenced on the brick work next Monday. The price is not given out.

Very Quiet Last Night.

The lack of business continues about city hall, and the police have nothing to do. Not an arrest was made last night nor during today.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
